HASKELL DELIVERS ADDRESS AT LAWTON

FLAYS ROOSEVELT FOR HIS HYPOCRISY.

THE OLD RECORDS RECALLED

Five Thousand People Hear Speech at the Comanche County Fair.

Lawton, Okla., Sept. 15.—Before an audience of 5,000 people at the annual Comanche county fair here this afternoon, Governor C. N. Haskell delivered a scholarly and exhaustive "analysis of the New Roosevelt," as he termed it, the promised answer to the attack made upon him recently by Col. Theodore Roosevelt at Osawatomie, Kansas, when the ex-president declared that while the nation's chief executive, he directed his attorney general to prosecute friend and foe alike whether it be "a republican senator from Oregon or a democratic governor of Oklahoma."

The governor took up in effective detail the record of Col. Roosevelt's administrative acts while in the New York legislature, as governor nor of the empire state, and as president and comparing them with the theories of government advanced by him in recent speeches, indicated that the Roosevelt of today is a complete conversion of the Roosevelt in office.

"The Roosevelt of today announces as his theories of government that which in 1896 he condemned in democratic leaders," said the governor. "He proclaims as his policies standards of government which are written in the constitution of Oklahoma, but to which he referred when that document was presented to him as a matter on which his opinion was unfit to print. He poses as the administrator of the square deal, but when like evidence in the same investigation is brought against a republican politician of Ohio and a democratic governor of Oklahoma, he leaves unaccused the Ohio republican and prosecutes the Oklahoma democrat."

The governor was introduced by State Senator J. Elmer Thomas, Senator Gore who was to introduce him having left last night for Washington.

Notwithstanding the abstractions of county fair attractions, the immense crowd on the grounds listened with interested attention. The speech is regarded by friends of the governor here as his greatest platform effort since governor of the state. Hundreds of visitors from over the state heard him.

Commenting on principles announced by Colonel Roosevelt in his Kansas City speech, the governor endeavored to show the former president as insincere, and said he has suffered an entire change of thought since his presidential term expired. Of Roosevelt's comment on United States supreme court, he said:

"It is not building for the welfare of our country when the leader of public thought breeds lack of respect or contempt for our greatest institutions."

He said Colonel Roosevelt had stopped prosecutions before the interstate commerce commission to protect Paul Morton. He asserted that H. M. Daugherty, republican lawyer of Columbus, was indicted with him in town lot cases but the prosecution was stopped by Roosevelt because Daugherty was prominent in the party.

GRANDFATHER CLAUSE WORKS WELL AT MUSKOGEE

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 15.—The grandfather clause amendment to the constitution was applied here in the election on a new city charter without the slightest opposition from the negroes, and without any friction whatever. Muskogee has more negroes than any other town in the state. A small percent of the negroes attempted to vote.

In each instance when a negro appeared at a booth to vote he was asked to show proof that his grandfather was a voter, or that he could read and write. In such cases the applicants were required to read and write four pages of the Oklahoma constitution. Some of them did this, and no further objection was raised. The better class of negroes admitted themselves that the test eliminates an undesirable element at the polls, and places a premium on education among their people. Muskogee is the home of A. G. W. Sango, the leader of the movement to prevent carrying the grandfather clause into effect at the November election.

ANOTHER BAD FIRE VISITS ADA

About 3:30 this morning ten buildings in "the flats" occupied by negroes, were totally destroyed by fire. The buildings were in a long row, about six or eight feet apart, and after the fire started it spread quickly to the entire row. The house in which it originated was unoccupied and unless it was of incendiary origin, there is no way of accounting for the fire.

The fire company responded to the alarm, but the nearest fire plug was too far away for the length of hose. When they had exhausted the chemical tank the boys tried to topple one of the shacks over in hope of checking further progress of the flames, but only succeeded in pushing it from the blocks.

The houses were the property of Ollie Lancaster. There was about $1,000 insurance on them and Mr. Lancaster's loss above the insurance amounts to not less than $1,200.

NEGRO COULD NOT VOTE; WANTS DAMAGES

McAlester, Sept. 15.—Charley Curry, a negro by H. A. Geuss his attorney, filed suit today in the superior court against E. L. Garner, Harry J. Bettes and Chas. C. M. Loeffler to recover damages because the defendants when acting as officers of the election held in Precinct B of the Second ward, August 30, refused to give him a ballot and allow him to vote at such primary election.

He alleges in his petition that he has been a resident of this city for many years, is a duly qualified voter and is properly registered, voted at the state primary election August 2, has never been convicted of a felony, has never been in a poor house or charge upon the county and that he can read and write.

He alleges that he has been damaged by the act of the said defendants in the sum of $5,000 and for this amount he asks judgment.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT FOR GOVERNOR OF N. J.

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE WOODROW WILSON OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 15.—Repudiated by the men of his home county of Mercer and scathingly scored in nominating speeches from other sections of the state, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, was today nominated in spite of all opposition, as the democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey. He won by a narrow margin on the first ballot, and the nomination was finally made unanimous by the men who had been his bitterest opponents.

While former Senator James Smith Jr., the democratic boss of the state, looked on with a smile, well satisfied that he had made good his promises of last night and his prediction of months past that the Princeton president will be the nominee. It was easily the most remarkable convention of recent years.

The platform, which Dr. Wilson declared was perfectly satisfactory to him, is regarded by the rank and file of the democratic party as a "milk and water" affair, lacking in many of the reform planks that democrats have for years been insisting upon. The plank for primary election reform is especially disappointing. This was passed upon by Dr. Wilson after he had refused to stand for a demand for the extension of the direct primary scheme to the nomination of governor and congressman.

The one good thing accomplished by the convention, according to those who fail to see anything good in the naming of Dr. Wilson, was the abolition of the unit rule of voting.

Comments on the News of the Day.

Caleb Powers, who was convicted three times for complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel of Kentucky, and who was finally pardoned by Gov. Wilson, seems to have "come back." After an exciting campaign he has won the nomination for congress over Congressman Edwards by a majority estimated at 7,000. This is a republican district, so his election seems assured. From the jail and the shadow of the gallows to the halls of congress is something of a leap, but Powers seems to have the ability to come back.

The Appalachian exposition is now in progress at Knoxville, Tenn., and from the reports of the papers of that state is being well attended. Many ex-Tennesseans are taking advantage of the occasion to visit the scenes of their early years.

A sensation has been sprung in Chicago by the arrest of George Fitzgerald, a former teller in the U. S. subtreasury. Some three years ago $173,000 in large bills was stolen and he has been shadowed ever since. His bond was fixed by Judge Landis at $50,000 and being unable to make this is now languishing in jail. He was a very smooth artist and to secure evidence sufficient to warrant his arrest was most difficult.

Now that long tours in autos have become so common that they have lost their charm, Charles Glidden, who first proposed that line of sport, now come forward with a suggestion of similar tours with areoplanes.

Yesterday marked the fifty-third anniversary of the birth of President Taft. He celebrated the day with a game of golf.

Jno. R. Bradley, who furnished the money for Cook's dash to the pole, is now on his way to Greenland to make a search for the instruments and records left there by the explorer. It is said that Cook is with him. Perhaps the doctor hopes to be more successful in fooling the people this time.

In the trial of C. L. Jackson, president of the Little Crater Crude Oil Burner Co., it was shown that in 1909 his sales of territory amounted to $3,000,000. The government alleges that he used the mails to exploit a fraud, and is prosecuting accordingly.

Purcell is keeping abreast with other progressive towns of the state. It has just adopted the commission form of city government by a majority of 70.

The state university opened its doors Thursday for the fall term. Eight hundred students have enrolled, and the most prosperous year in the history of the school seems assured.

The Democrats of Garvin county are having a little trouble of their own. They have two county central committees, each claiming to be IT.

Jno. Grey, a former mayor of Minneapolis and a newspaper man, has been nominated for governor of Minnesota by the Democrats.

Ed Julian, county clerk of Mcintosh county, was acquitted of the charge of killing Joe Grammer at Checotah. The killing grew out of the feud between Checotah and Eufaula when the last county seat election was held.

THOUGHT THE MAYOR WAS A NEGRO

Muskogee, Ok., Sept. 15.—"I am a colored man, and I assume that you are one too."

This was the rather startling postscript to a letter received by Mayor A. F. McGarr. It was signed by a Georgia negro, and shows the effectiveness of the campaign that was being carried on prior to the adoption of the grandfather clause to the constitution to colonize Oklahoma with negroes in time for the November election.

The negro stated that he was a carpenter and had been invited to move to Oklahoma where a negro stood an equal chance with the white man. He assumed from the literature furnished him that Muskogee was a negro town and that its mayor was a colored man.

CHIEF HOUNSHELL MAKES SEARCH FOR BOOZE

Yesterday afternoon Chief Hounshell and Patrolmen Brady and Goynes made the round of all places in the town where there was reason to believe liquor was being sold. They found nothing anywhere, however, until they searched the James place on the north side of West Main street. There they located a partially filled barrel of "Manitou." Sheriff Smith claimed that he had already seized that for evidence to be used before the grand jury. The chief took away a bottle of it, however, and will probably have it analyzed to find out for certain how much alcohol it contained.

Count Zeppelin's latest creation in Taft and Roosevelt in chorus after hearing the returns from Maine:

"Now look what YOU went and done."

Editors are sometimes accused of being monumental liars, but it has been our experience that they are cussed a lot more for telling the truth than for not telling it.

Five of the Illinois legislators indicted for bribery in connection with the election of Lorimer to the U. S.

Senate, are in the race again. They will probably get it—in the neck.

By way of showing that they don't mind Roosevelt's snub, Senator Lorimer's friends are planning the biggest banquet on record for him, and they say Teddy shan't even get a look-in on it. Teddy probably feels bad over what he is to miss.

In a way the editor always regrets to hear of subscribers not getting their papers, but on the other hand when one complains it flatters the editor just a little bit to know that they are reading his paper and miss its daily or weekly visits.

In England they speak of a candidate standing for office. In America we say they run for office. It may be more dignified to stand, but our observations incline us to the belief that running is a more accurate term than standing.

Speaking of good roads, Pontotoc county has material with which to construct roads for half a dozen counties and never miss what had been used. It will take some money, of course, but as a dividend-paying proposition, we don't see how this could be beaten. A great amount of the work can be done by the county prisoners at little cost to the tax payers.

Factional fights have been the ruin of many a town with flattering prospects. It has always been the policy of the writer to discourage any sort of division among the citizens of Ada, and we shall rigidly adhere to this policy. Upon co-operation depends the welfare of any town. It has been the secret of the growth of Ada to this good day, and we hope nothing will ever occur to divide the community.

The effect of the Maine election was felt even here in Oklahoma yesterday. The Guthrie State Capital broke his time honored custom of devoting its entire editorial page to cussing and lying about Haskell and the Democrats, and utilized the space to explaining all about how it happened in Maine, and the good people of Oklahoma got one day's rest. Maybe we will get several more after the November returns come in.

It makes us tired to hear knockers howling about salaries paid teachers and preachers. To fill either place requires years of preparation and constant work and expense to keep abreast of the time. Their callings are the most important of any,
for in their hands is the responsibility of molding the lives and destinies of the coming generation. All that a man in either of these professions can expect is a bare living until he is fifty years of age, then nothing more except hardship. It requires much self-sacrifice to follow either of these lines and they are the poorest paid of any.

Speaking of the happy days of boyhood, and the pleasures of school time when the idea is learning to shoot, the editor of the Tulsa Post does not exactly agree with the commonly accepted view. Says he: "I will never get so old, that I will cease to be glad that my schooldays are over. Even now, when I see a school book, I feel sick clear through When I have a bad dream, I usually is one in which I dream I am start-

Some counties in Eastern Oklahoma are having more or less worry about building court houses. As for Pontotoc county we think the commissioners have adopted the right policy in renting temporary quarters and making improvements along lines that can't afford to be neglected. We need better roads above all else and more bridges, to say nothing of numerous other improvements. After these have been given attention it will be time to think about a court house. Furthermore, we are of the opinion that when we once begin on this work a building should be erected that will answer all purposes for a century to come, no matter what the population of the county may be. With the present values of the county this would be out of the question. In a few more years there will be a sufficient amount of the land paying taxes to enable us to build a court house that will be the pride of the county.

CHICKASAWS AND CHOCTAWS SUE COMANCHE TRIBE

Fort Sill, Okla., Sept. 15.—Chief Quannah Parker and his Comanche Indian tribesmen are asked to pay $700,000 damages to the Choctaws and Chickasaws, and Special Attorney S. H. Kelly and Federal Attorney Crick are here investigating the claims. This amount the latter tribes allege should be given them as damages for inroads made in their territory by Comanches during the years immediately following the civil war.
The claims are not new in fact they have been up before the department before and were investigated and finally dropped. The Chicka-saws and Choctaws, however, have employed S. H. Kelly as their attorney and he states that the claims are just and will be allowed by the government when the facts are made plain. Federal Attorney Crick was here to represent the Comanches. Depositions were taken among the older Comanches and chiefs, all of whom denied the claims.

The Chickasaws and Choctaws claim that during the years 1866, 1867, 1868, the Comanches came over into their territory, now the vicinity of Chickasha and Comanche, and drove off their cattle and committed depredations of various kinds, all of which have been recounted in a lengthy petition for damages. It was stated that several hundred members of the Chickasaws and Choctaws had enlisted in the southern army, many had been killed and wounded, leaving the tribe in a crippled and defenseless shape. Taking advantage of their condition, the injured tribes claim, the Comanches, then unsettled and wild, raided their reservations and inflicted damage which they estimate at $700,000. Many members of the Chickasaws and Choctaw tribes have filed affidavits of the damages inflicted and swear to the truthfulness of the alleged raids, but recently the Comanches firmly denied that such raids had ever been made.
The case will now be taken before the court of claims and there the various claims passed upon and either allowed or refused. If allowed $700,000 will be taken out of the funds allowed the Comanches by the government and turned over to the injured tribe.

Long Staple Cotton.

D. J. Armstrong representing Birge-Forbes Co., purchased a load of long staple cotton in the seed yesterday evening. Mr. Armstrong says the cotton is a good quality of the long staple variety, the fibers measuring from an inch and one-eighth to an inch and a half in length, and is worth about twenty cents per pound.

He purchased it from some one who lives southwest of town whose name is not remembered, but who doubtless is ignorant of possessing such fine cotton.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE.

Ada People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys ex-crete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scald-ing. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue.
Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease ptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

ILLINOIS POLITICS

RATHER MIXED

CANNON NOMINATED—BOUTELL DEFEATED.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 15.—The renomination of Joseph G. Cannon to congress by a generous margin over his republican opponent, Dr. Downs; the overwhelming defeat of Representative Henry S. Boutell, standpatter, in the Ninth District by F. H. Galsbergen, insurgent, and the probable defeat of Representative George E. Foss in the Tenth District and the renomination of nearly all the men who were charged with participation in the "legislative jackpot," are the striking features of the Illinois state wide primary election today.

May Succeed Cannon as Speaker.
Representative James R. Mann, against whom a strong fight was made by two insurgents, Joseph R. Burr and Louis J. Behan, in the Second District, has won. His friends did heroic work for him at the polls believing he will be a formidable candidate for Speaker of the House of representatives to succeed Mr. Cannon.

Representative Boutell, who has been a member of Congress thirteen years, and was one of the strong supporters of Speaker Cannon and the tariff bill lost the nomination by over 1,000 votes. He made his canvass on a platform of support of the administration and of all the legislation enacted by congress last year and this.

Loyalty to Cannon Caused Defeat.

On account of this support Mr. Boutell lost the friendly interest of three or four newspapers which previously had aided him in his contests. His loyalty to Speaker Cannon cost him hundreds of votes. The same may be said of Representative Foss, brother of the democrat, Eugene Foss, recently elected to congress from Massachusetts. Mr. Foss has been in congress eight terms.

Where State Interest Centered.

State interest centered largely in the campaign that was made by the legislative votes league and other reform organizations, to "clean out" the General Assembly. By this is meant to get rid of the members who were suspected of corruption in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer and of sharing in the spoils of the last session.

Accused Senator Renominated.

Lee O'Neil Browne, who was accused last week of the charge of bribing legislators to vote for William Lorimer for senator, is renominated in his district. In his home county the result will be considered a further vindication of the man who was named by Col. Roosevelt as one of the undesirable citizens. Browne is still under indictment in Sangamon county, hence the possibility of complications before election if he should be found guilty at Springfield.

Robert E. Wilson of Chicago, charged in court with having distributed part of the legislative "jackpot" in a St. Louis hotel bathroom, is renominated by a positive majority.

At this hour it is not known how Joseph S. Clarke of Vandalia, another legislator implicated by the confession of others in the "jackpot" episode has fared, but pre-election forecasts were that he would be defeated.

SOME ANTI-SALOON TALK THE RIGHT TO SELL WHISKY

Our government—practically all governments—recognize the fact that no person has the right to sell intoxicating drinks. A man may move to town today, and tomorrow open up a meat and meal market, and the city officials will not interfere. But no man has a right to open up a saloon in this or any other town. Why? Simply and solely because the saloon business is so bad for the town, so antagonistic to the schools, the churches, the homes, in fact every interest in the town which is good, that government does not allow any one to have the right to run a saloon, any more than it allows that some man has the right to burn barns and homes. No, sir, the saloon business is not a legitimate business open to all good citizens. It is recognized everywhere as a business of special privilege. As a business, therefore, it violates that good old democratic, Jeffersonian doctrine, "Equal rights to all, and special privileges to none." The man who sells liquor must have a special privilege. He is one of a "special few," who has bought the right to carry on an "exclusive business. At the present time he is protected in this special right by the government who sells it to him, and backed by one of the most powerful "special interests" in this country—the liquor interests. The Sons of Washington are proposing that the municipalities of the state of Oklahoma be authorized to sell such "special privileges" to a "special few" for the sum of two thousand dollars. It is as unrighteous and undemocratic to sell such special privileges to conduct a saloon business as it would be to sell a "special permit" to "one in a thousand" to conduct the only meat market in the town. How would you like a proposition like that? Aside from all the ills and evils of the saloon business this one "special privilege" idea in connection with it is sufficient to defeat it with all right thinking people.

Some Interesting War Relics.

J. A. Morgan returned yesterday after an absence of several months. Since leaving Ada he has traveled in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas and Texas. He recently attended a Confederate reunion at Commerce, Texas.

Mr. Morgan is a Confederate veteran who saw some severe service during the war, and he has some interesting relics of that bloody period. This morning he showed us a twenty-seven inch knife that they used at the beginning of the war "to carve Yankees with," he jestingly explained. In close quarters this knife would be a weapon capable of doing serious damage to a man's anatomy. Another interesting relic in his possession is a sash worn at the battle of Goliad by an uncle of his. This uncle, was one of the few Americans who escaped the massacre that followed, and he was held prisoner in Mexico for a number of years.

Business Men Protest.

This thing of keeping the streets blockaded indefinitely while the paving operations are being held up has been grating on the nerves of the business men of Main street, for it has been damaging their business. Yesterday afternoon a petition was circulated among them asking the council to take steps to force the contractors to hurry the work or else open the streets. It was signed by every man on the street with possibly two exceptions.

DENISON PLEASED WITH COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

Durant is considering the adoption of the commission form of government. To learn of the practical workings of the system the editor of the Durant Democrat wrote to the mayor of Denison and received the following reply:

"Denison, Tex., June 10.
"Editor Glenn, Durant, Okla.

"Dear Sir:—Answering your recent favor permit me to state that the leading features of the commission form of government are the fixing of responsibility and celerity of action.

"In the old form the people elect from four to twenty councilmen, mayor, clerk, jailor, chief of police, scavenger, city attorney, police judge, street commissioner, and school trustees, an dthe terms of office are fixed so that a fourth, third or half drop out and are re-elected every year.

"Under this arrangement the officials are all answerable to the people, so that when their terms are about to expire, they are apt to lax in their duties lest defeat should overtake them.

"The mayor usually divides the council into committees who take charge of different departments, and any business arising at the regular monthly meetings is referred to the proper committee, to be reported on at the next meeting. This method consumes a month in committee and inspires a debate on being reported, so that little is ever accomplished at a council meeting except the routine work of allowing accounts, if any member is inclined he can juggle a subject indefinitely so as to delay action, or cause defeat, oftentimes, from a political motive alone.

In the commission form there is no politics. It is all pure business. The people elect the mayor and two commissioners only. All other officials are appointed by the commissioners and hold their offices for no definite time. They are liable to be let out whenever a better man is found. If the mayor or commissioners go oblique the people can call them down by a twenty per cent petition.

"The commission is always in session, always ready for business. We have regular meetings so as to report transactions, but any business can be authorized without one. Where a month or six weeks is consumed under the old form to arrive

Have You Paid Your Telephone Bill?

Telephone bills for the current month are now due and payable at our office. Please see that your bills are paid by the 15th. Otherwise service will be discontinued without further notice.

Pioneer Telephone and Telegraph Co.

at a conclusion the commission will give answer in five minutes. Each commissioner is assigned to a certain department, and looks after that without suggestions from the other commissioner, unless something extraordinary happens. Each commissioner is supreme in his own department, and is held responsible for his actions in it. Mistakes or delays cannot be shifted on somebody else.

"Denison has made more progress under three years of commission form of government, than under twenty of the old form.

"Respectfully yours,
"Alex W. ACHESON, Mayor."

ANOTHER SUCKER PULLS THE CORK UNDER

Francis Wigwam Sees Gigantic Conspiracy with Jointists.

The Francis Wigwam is the latest sucker to bite at the bait we dangled before the public last week. Under a double head he tells it to his readers and then follows up with the comments below. The cigars are on you, Clarke, and we shall expect Tom Moores, too.

Says the Wigwam:
"The Ada News of Monday contains a sensational article in regard to joints running wide open in that Sodom of Southeast Oklahoma. The editor not only declares that three of these holes are wide open, but offers to take any doubting citizen to their portals and let him see with his own eyes.

The fact that there are wide open joints in Ada is not at all surprising, but what puzzles us is the sudden change of heart on the part of the News management. Old residents declare that, as far as their memories serve them, the News has never before assumed such a hostile attitude toward booze.

Several theories have been advanced. One is that the policy of the News has been changed by the recent consolidation. Another is that the sudden outburst was caused from the fact that the joints have adopted the cash system and refuse further credit to anyone. However, the most plausible explanation is that the article was published for the purpose of inducing farmers to haul their cotton to Ada. The plan being to allow the farmer to sell his cotton, steer him into one of the joints and then fine him for disorderly conduct and destruction of public property.

This scheme won't work with Francis farmers. They have a good cotton market right at home this year and besides they prefer Canadian river water to the "pizen" they sell in Ada."

This Street Paving.

Perhaps there has been nothing more talked of in town than the present street paving. It seems that it was hard to get started—harder to keep going. Now a good deal of apprehension is manifested on the part of a good many business men that the streets will be barred and impassable for an uncertain and indefinite time, without something is done to get the paving company to either open the streets or put the asphalt on where the streets are ready for it so at least those streets may soon become passable. In the mean time the contractors have been trying for two weeks to get a place to unload their asphalt mill. This must be done before the rock can be ground to make the asphalt. They must have railroad trackage so they can receive the rock ready at the mill. Now the company has had two cars of machinery on the track for two weeks and have found no place to unload it. They are trying to make a deal with the Katy. After the asphalt mill is started it will not take long to put the finish on the streets. But who can tell when it will start?

THE PRENTISS CASE GOES TO JURY

Much interest is being manifested in the Prentiss murder trial. The defense, as may be noted by the trend of the testimony sought by it and the rebuttal undertaken by the state, is basing its principal contention on the proposition that the defendant Prentiss is an imbecile, and was not responsible for the act of killing his wife.

This is such a case as invites in its trial the best intelligence of the court and the attorneys and the nicest discriminations by the jury.

Leading insanity experts of the state have examined the defendant and testified before the jury.

The testimony in the case was concluded late Thursday afternoon and at last night's session, Hon. I. M. King, opened the argument for the prosecution. Mr. King made a masterly argument, which with his convincing personality must have made a profound impression on the jury. A crowded court house heard him through.

Attorneys Crawford and Bolen for the defense, and state attorney Robt. Wimbish consumed the major portion of the day in arguments before the jury.

These attorneys have made a notable defense in this case. Mr. Crawford made an earnest plea for his client and his speech was strong and vigorous throughout. Judge Bolen's speech before the jury is considered by several who heard him as one of the best ever delivered before a Pontotoc county jury. While the character of the defense was probably unusual, even, within the annals of Judge Bolen's criminal practice, since his defense was that the defendant was an imbecile and insane when he killed his wife. Judge Bolen's ornate exposition delved easily into the philosophy of metaphysics and the science of psychology.

State Prosecutor Wimbish is conducting the argument this afternoon.
